

Greetings,

December brings us into the season of Advent - a time of expectant waiting and a reminder that God meets us in every circumstance. As we move through these next few weeks, we are invited to reflect on what it means to live faithfully even in moments of uncertainty, weariness, or hardship.

Advent reminds us that we can rest in Christ, trusting in his promise of salvation and his presence with us - whether this season is filled with celebration, quiet reflection, or a mix of both. God's hope is for those who are rejoicing and those who are struggling; his peace is offered in the midst of chaos; his joy breaks through even in small, unexpected ways; his love holds us all.

Wherever this season finds you, may the gifts of Advent draw you closer to him and may your heart be filled with renewed hope as together we await the coming of our King.

3 Ways to Participate with CBM this Season

1. Hopeful Gifts for Change

As you make your Christmas list and look for the perfect gift, consider giving in a way that goes beyond what can be wrapped. Hopeful Gifts for Change offers meaningful alternatives to gifts that honour the people you love while making a real difference in countless lives around the world.

2. Where Most Needed

Sometimes the most faithful response is also the most flexible one. Gifts to Where Most Needed equip CBM to act quickly when urgent needs arise, and to step faithfully into new ministry opportunities our partners face around the world.

Conflict, climate pressures, and economic shifts can change situations overnight. Where Most Needed giving allows our global team to respond without delay-supporting local churches as they serve their communities.

Integral Mission in the Workplace Training Rwanda

Vennture's recent Integral Mission in the Workplace training in Rwanda with both church and workplace leaders emphasized the importance of bridging the gap between Sunday and Monday and reminded participants that all believers are specifically equipped by God to serve Him both within the gathered church and the broader scattered church. Participants will carry the integral mission principles into their respective areas of influence thereby equipping others and creating a ripple effect of positive change throughout congregations and local communities. This formative training on biblical principles of faith and work is mobilizing church and work and daily lives.

If you'd like to help more pastors and church leaders receive this training, please consider giving to A3: Integral Mission in the Workplace in CBM's Hopeful Gifts Christmas Catalogue by clicking the button below.
